RESEARCH MEETS INNOVATION

EAI was created by leaders from industry, research, and policy making organisations to engage the global community with the shared goal of securing Europe's future competitiveness through innovation.

By harnessing the potential of the ICT revolution, EAI engages the global community in all sectors of society to explore ways in which innovation in technology and business can benefit society at large.

Through its institutional members, EAI endorses hundreds of events around the world as one of the largest scientific meeting supporters. EAI is involved in the technical program development of events including scientific meetings, trade events, training workshops, seminars, fairs, and other programs worldwide.
